Appointment of Indian Candidates by Selection, 1940.

1. On account of the war the usual written competitive examination for admission to the Indian Civil Service will not be held in London in 1940. In order, therefore, to satisfy the expectations of a certain number of Indian candidates who have been studying at British Universities with the special object of entering the Indian Civil Service through this examination, the Secretary of State has decided to offer not more than six vacancies in 1940 to be filled on the recommendation of a Selection Board set up in the United Kingdom.

(b) * a ruler or a subject of a State in India in respect of whom a declaration has been made under Section 262 (3) of the Government of India Act, 1935.

Provided that in the case of a male British subject the requirements of this rule may be waived by the Secretary of State if he is satisfied that their observance would occasion exceptional hardship, and the candidate is so closely connected by ancestry or upbringing with His Majesty's Dominions as to justify special treatment

3. A candidate must have attained the age of 21 and must not have attained the age of 24 on the 1st August 1940.

5. Candidates must have qualified by examination for a good Honours Degree in a Final Honours School of an approved University in the British Isles, or have passed an examination which, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, is of equivalent standard, at an approved University, or approved Institution of University rank (other than a University) in the British Isles, after residence as full time members for at least two academic years at such University or Institution, or at one of the University Colleges enumerated in the footnote.†

A candidate who at the date of application is not qualified in this respect, but is otherwise qualified, may, if recommended by the Selection Board, be admitted provisionally as a selected candidate, but his admission will not be confirmed if he has not fulfilled the prescribed conditions on or before the 10th October 1940. Provided that special consideration may be given to the case of any candidate otherwise qualified under this rule who has been prevented by circumstances arising out of war conditions from completing the whole of the prescribed period of two years residence.

Candidates will be required to produce documentary evidence showing that these conditions have been fulfilled.
